

Frontline Construction Group Announces Commitment to Resilience by Supporting IBHS' FORTIFIED Home™ Program

Baton Rouge, LA. November 4, 2025– Frontline Construction Group, LLC. today announced it has joined in support of the Insurance Institute for Business & Home Safety's (IBHS) FORTIFIED Home™ program. Frontline Construction Group, LLC. will work to make our communities more resilient by improving the ability of our nation's homes to resist severe weather by promoting FORTIFIED Home's voluntary severe storm protection system upgrades.

"Our organization is pleased to support FORTIFIED Home," said Tino Soto, President and CEO. "We believe in strengthening our communities and will continue to demonstrate our commitment to help our customers protect what is priceless."

In support of FORTIFIED Home, Frontline Construction Group, LLC. will:

- With a FORTIFIED roof we will help Louisiana residents lower their insurance premiums, get access to tax credits of up to $10,000, receive insurance discounts of 15%-39% or more, and increase their home value.
- Support FORTIFIED Home by ensuring that homes have stronger edges to their roofs, provide sealed roof decks, better attachments (such as ring-shank nails in and enhanced pattern), and by installing impact-resistant shingles along with direct consultation with homeowners.
- Help spread the word about the importance of resilience to our staff, customers, partners and community.
- Highlight our achievements with recognition offered through FORTIFIED Home.

"Improving the ability of our nation's homes to withstand severe weather is critical to protecting what is priceless and strengthening our communities," said Fred Malik, Director of FORTIFIED Programs at IBHS. "From the roof to the foundation, FORTIFIED Home allies are leading the way by making the homes where we live stronger, safer and more durable."

FORTIFIED Home was introduced by IBHS in 2010 as a voluntary set of home upgrades. Today, FORTIFIED Homes are being built in many of America's coastal communities.
